BAND BIO

Originating from the Midwest USA in Pontiac Michigan, Half Way There (HWT) is 5 piece collective band with a laid back one drop reggae style. HWT is accustomed to playing late night shows at local breweries and Midwest Festivals. A positive vibe and camaraderie from mutual friends was established to form this band which strives to share unifying, positive and relate-able messages to listeners. The band consists of 5 friends which includes: Aaron Brown (Keys/Vocals), Tim Schneider (Guitar/Vocals), Dave Schultz (Bass), Paul Garvey (Drums), and Josh Meyer (Lead Guitar). HWT released an EP called The Skeleton Sessions in 2017 available on iTunes, CD Baby and Spotify. 2 new singles have been released in 2019 and 2020 "Eyes on You" and "Revolution"

MEMBER BIO

Aaron Brown [Keys/Vocals] has developed music as a medium to express his life experience, passion, and creativity to share universal vibration with others. The piano and keyboard provide a full spectrum of sound which inspires his artistic development from his roots in classical, pop and reggae music genres. Some influences include the abstract qualities of Phish, the soulful sound and rhythm of Bob Marley, and the jazzy psychedelic vibes of the Grateful Dead. Consequently Aaron has been Nominated for a Detroit Music Award for Outstanding Reggae/Ska band and Vocalist.

Paul Garvey [Drums/Percussion] has been solid in the pursuit of reggae rhythms as well as jam music. His performance history includes one of the self proclaimed pioneers in the Detroit Reggae/Hip-Hop Scene being a co-founder of the band Stash. His experience has progressed into a well-rounded skillset which complements HWT tastefully and has honed in the chemistry of the band through prior experience performing with Aaron and Josh (in Stash). He is the newest member of the band and we welcome his talent.

David Shultz [Bass/Vocals] was a music lover at an early age, but roots reggae especially hit his heart. Hypnotized by the bass groove in reggae, he spent many nights listening and studying the genre. Reggae music has had such an influence on his way of thinking, that he couldn't imagine a life without it. He plays music to share the message of love, freedom, and anti-establishment. What's a better band to play in than HWT!

Tim Schneider [Guitar/Vocals] was raised on the lakes of Waterford Michigan began listening to Bob Marley and Sublime at a young age. As he grew older and started song writing these influences along with many other modern Reggae artists remained as heavy influences. Joining forces with Aaron Brown (Keys/Vocals) the band evolved into its current state. Lyrics focus on political and social change.

Josh Meyer [Lead Guitar/Vocals] Born in Detroit, Josh grew up on the sounds of Led Zeppelin, Jimi Hendrix, Pink Floyd, The Beatles, and many other bands that comprise the lexicon of monolithic bands and artists that make up the sounds from the 50's to the 90's. He infuses this classic rock influence with a fetish for Funk and Soul in the vein of James Brown, Parliament, Earth Wind and Fire, and Stevie Wonder. He also carries equal parts devotion to the deeply powerful Reggae rhythms of Marley, Peter Tosh, Toots, Burning Spear and more.
